

Your garage door is a significant part of the “face” of your home and is most likely, depending upon its size and features, one of your home’s most notable elements. As a result, the garage door has a significant role to play and provides an excellent opportunity to improve the style and beauty of your home. Whether you are building a new home or are simply replacing your old garage door, Renner Supply has just what you need to increase your home’s curb appeal in an efficient and affordable manner.

function and are built with materials that stand the test of time with minimal maintenance. Available in a variety of materials, including steel, aluminum full-view and custom wood, garage doors can create the perfect complement to the façade of your home. Renner Supply, Kansas City’s leader in new garage door installation and garage door repair for both residential and commercial customers, along with Delden Manufacturing, has been providing premium quality overhead garage door installation services, electric garage door openers and garage door accessories for more than six decades. Coupled with that experience is a team of highly skilled technicians who will provide customers with quality craftsmanship, along with the “Delden Difference.”

According to Brad Dodson, Marketing and Promotions Manager for Renner

Supply, this difference is comprised of three main facets that uniquely sets this company apart from the rest.

“We use only premium components in all Delden branded garage doors, from entry level doors to high-end ones,” he emphasized. “We are also a distributor of multiple brands and can offer more options at a more competitive price. We have the right products at the right price for nearly every application. Plus, we build our own customized doors in-house and can build each one specific to the door frame. We control the entire process from start to finish.”

The primary reason customers choose to install a new garage door is for aesthetics, and Renner Supply offers a host of style and design options from which to choose. For the first time in history, however, the garage door is making significant strides when it comes to the return on the investment (ROI), most notably when associated with upscale projects. According to remodeling.hw.net, the average cost of an upscale garage door replacement is $3,470, with an average ROI of 98.3% nationally.

“In the Kansas City area, we are seeing about an 82% ROI on the investment,” noted Dodson.

Since 1956, Renner Supply has made a strong and legendary name for itself to which some of the best and most beautiful homes in the Kansas City area can fully attest. Renner Supply, a member of the International Doors Association (IDA) and Home Builders Association of Greater Kansas City (KCHBA), also specializes in garage door service and repair work, a tradition that has held strong since 1956. ■

Customers are now opting for darker colors as an accent, not as a base color, and tend to lean towards more contemporary styles, including vertical windows placed down the side of the door. Frosted glass aesthetics also allow for sunlight while simultaneously providing ample privacy. Often, customers may choose to have the garage door color match the front door color of the home.
