Realizing not everything can always be perfect, Wilson's is known for transparency, honesty, and fairness. Open and honest communication is an integral part of the relationship between the sales staff and the customers, and the company's ultimate goal is complete customer satisfaction achieved through individual and personal attention.

"Because we live in this community, we want to be of service to the people who also live here," expressed Aubrie Weed, manager. "We approach each project as if it were for our own home. That means taking into consideration products we would actually want in our own homes and installing them properly."

Working with new home construction and home remodeling projects, as well as with some commercial projects, Wilson's Floor Covering, Inc. also provides design services with their in-house specialists.

"For new home customers, we help with selections in interior and exterior colors, counter tops and more," indicated Weed. "For those people who struggle with visualizing the finished product, we are here to assist and make them feel comfortable in their decisions."

Weed also emphasized the importance of asking as many questions as possible when it comes to choosing floor covering and other design products for your home.

"Always ask questions and don't assume anything," she expressed. "It's okay to ask how something will be installed or if a seam will run a certain way. You can never ask too many questions, and we are more than happy to assist."

Because Wilson's Floor Covering, Inc. adheres to a high standard of quality, customers know they are receiving proper materials installed by some of the most experienced tradesmen in the industry.

"Our installers are our employees, not strangers," indicated Weed, emphasizing they know their craft from the inside out and do the work to even head off potential problems in advance.
