

When landscape designer and project manager Mike Peltier began watering plants at a nursery when he was 14 years old, he planted the seed for what would become a fulfilling career in the outdoor living space industry. A respected and multiple award-winning designer for covers it all, from patios to pergolas, fire pits and outdoor kitchens.

“I do it all, down to the last flower,” he smiled. With both plant and construction backgrounds, he is able to design and oversee all elements of outdoor space development. A talented artist at heart, vision come to life, and that is what ultimately drew me to this business,” he said. “At Rosehill, we are not a design firm. We are in the business to create what we design.”

Whether a client simply desires one tree or a full-spectrum project, Peltier will Rosehill Gardens, Peltier naturally comes by his talent and approaches each project with an equal amount of passion, enthusiasm, expertise and inspiration.

A hardscape specialist at heart, Peltier

Peltier creates the site plan along with the design, sets the price and oversees the entire installation.

“I like the artistic end of the work, drawing something and seeing that paper assess the wish list of things they like and then find the balance between what they want and what works well in the area. While many clients may have no idea what they want with respect to the project, many others are quite specific about what they want, and Peltier provides the talent and expertise to bring each project to perfect completion.

consultation is $100.00, which will be applied towards the project.

One of Peltier’s outstanding projects exists on the Rosehill Gardens grounds that also includes Somerset Ridge Wine and Cider bar, as well as a dedicated display area to showcase a variety of landscaping materials utilized by Rosehill Peltier takes inspiration from nature and incorporates rugged, natural and rustic elements into his designs. Interested clients are invited to schedule a consultation with Peltier. The cost of the in Martin City, Missouri. He essentially took a weed-filled, gravel parking lot and beautifully transformed it into a park-like setting featuring a gorgeous event space

Gardens, such as hardscaping, plants, water features and more. ■

TRENDING...

Whereas that “curb appeal” element was what everyone asked for in seeking a landscape plan, now most often it leans towards functional outdoor spaces: patios, pools and decks to complete living areas with outdoor kitchens, fireplaces, lounging and gaming areas and even areas for watching television.

311 East 135th Street
Kansas City, Missouri
816.941.4777
rosehillgardens.com